

VIRGINIAN ABETS FATHER GOPON

Captain Orlan Clyde Cullen Is An All Around Revolutionist.

A FREIGHT ELEVATOR FALLS

Pennsylvania Railroad Officials Examine Virginia
Orchards.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WINCHESTER, Va., October 6.—Advices arrived here to-day from Port Limon, Costa Rica, stating that Captain Orlan Clyde Cullen, the former United States army officer, practitioner before the Supreme Court, and eccentric inventor of the Cullen ball bearing rifle, which the Japanese used to slay Port Arthur, stopped at Port Limon a week ago on his way to Colon, his intentions being to claim the lands of several clients who had died of the plague and yellow fever.

It was stated that he had recently been elected president of the International Republican League, and as such is assisting with arms, money and supplies Father Gapon, of Russia, in the revolutionary movement, and that large numbers of the oppressed classes of Russia were now members of the league, which demands for their country a constitution similar to that of the United States.
Captain Cullen's home is at Waterloch, Warren county, Va., and until a few weeks ago he was reported in press dispatches as assisting President Castro of Venezuela to fortify that country with the Cullen rifles.

ELEVATOR FALLS.

With a crash that was heard for a block away the freight elevator at the great ice manufacturing and cold storage plant of C. L. Robinson, in this city, fell last night from the top of the third floor to the ground, bringing with it a ton of weights that plunged from the extreme height of the shaft, extending to the fifth floor, and burying them in a concrete floor two feet deep. A dozen men were on the elevator, and they escaped by jumping just before an inch thick steel cable broke and caused the elevator to plunge to the bottom. The men fell among piles of barrels and boxes, and several were badly hurt. The operator could not control the elevator, and there was nothing to prevent it from falling.

EXAMINE ORCHARDS.

Headed by General Freight Agent C.
H. Cleveland, of the Cumberland Valley Railway, a large party of wealthy businessmen and other business men of the north section of Cumberland valley in Pennsylvania arrived in Winchester this afternoon and made a thorough inspection of several of the most productive apple orchards in the Valley of Virginia, which are located north of the city. The object of their visit was to see the apple harvest in operation on an extensive scale, with a view of introducing the same methods and manner of shipments to the farmers and fruit men of their section.

Among the orchards visited was the E. L. Lupton farm, which is to be utilized by the United States Agricultural Department for the model orchard of the country, and a fine orchard recently sold by General Stuart Brown, of Fairfax county, to Stuart Bell, of Winchester. The bankers and business men returned to Harrisburg this evening.

ABSOLUTE DIVORCE.

Legal Separation of Mrs. Mary Buckner From Husband.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WINCHESTER, Va., Oct. 6.—Announcement was made here to-day that an absolute divorce has been granted in the Circuit Court of Fauquier county, Va., by Judge E. B. Nicol to Mrs. Mary Robinson Buckner, of Upperville, Va., from her husband, Chas. E. Buckner, her allegations being that he was guilty of conduct unbecoming a husband. Mrs.
Buckner is a daughter of W. H. Robinson, son, formerly of this city, and at the time of her marriage she was regarded as the belle and beauty of Fauquier county.
She belongs to an old and distinguished family of Virginia and Mr. Buckner is a member of the prominent Kentucky family of that name.

CRUSHED BY TRAIN.

Car Inspector Loses His Life at Cape Charles.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CAPT CHARLES, Va., October 6.—Mr.
H. B. Taylor, a car inspector for the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad, this place, was caught beneath a car in the yards last night and was badly injured that he died on the train coming to the hospital at Salisbury, Md. Mr. Taylor was underneath the car when it was struck by another, which had been shifted, and was caught by a portion of the running gear and crushed and bruised internally. He leaves a widow and several children, who live in Potomac, Md.

Missing Collector.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SUFFOLK, Va., Oct. 6.—Norman L.
Jones, collector for a local furniture house, is mysteriously missing. Neither his employer, nor boarding house knows anything of his whereabouts. Jones accounts, so far as known, are straight, and in the absence of motive for voluntary disappearance, foul play is feared.
Jones is from Butte, Montana.

A LOVELY COMPLEXION

New York Lady Proves That Every Woman May Have It By

USING CUTICURA SOAP

Mrs. R. Reichenberg, wife of the well-known jeweler of 146 Fulton St., New York, says: "I had a friend who was justly proud of her complexion.
When asked what gave her such a brilliant and lovely complexion, she replied, 'A healthy woman can be sure of a fine skin if she will do as I do, use plenty of Cuticura Soap and water.' She insisted that I follow her example, which I did with speedy conviction. I find that Cuticura Soap keeps the skin soft, white, and clear, and prevents redness and roughness."

A WARM CONTEST OVER SCOTT COUNTY

Very Doubtful If the Republicans Can Keep It in Their Column.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

GATE CITY, Va., October 6.—The Republicans are exceedingly active in Scott county, and are making a great effort to hold the county in their column. They have appointments for speaking for almost every day from now till the election, their appointments covering every neighborhood. Among their speakers are ex-Senator D. F. Bailey, of Bristol, Senator John C. Noel, of Lee, Judge T. M.
Alderson, of Wise, and Mr. C. S. Pendleton, the Republican nominee for the House of Delegates.

While Colonel Slomp received a majority of about four hundred in the county last November, the Republicans realize that it will take hard work for them to hold the county this year. Last year they paid the poll taxes of their party, while the Democrats were negligent in regard to the taxes. This year the Democrats are nearly all paid up, while many Republicans are delinquent.

Mr. M. M. Starnes, the Democratic candidate for the House of Delegates, is a most popular citizen, fifty-two years of age. He is a man of great energy and business qualifications, and his large business interest connect him intimately with many influential Republicans. The Republicans realize that he would make the county a much better representative than Mr. Pendleton, who is a very young man and without the experience to qualify him for the important position.
Mr. Pendleton, however, is a worthy young man, and quite well educated.

One thing that will operate strongly against Mr. Pendleton is the fact that his father was a Federal soldier and he cannot appeal successfully to the Confederate soldiers or their descendants, who constitute a large element of the Republican party of this county.

As between the State tickets this county will be close, but the outlook for the Democratic candidates for House of Delegates and for county clerk is highly encouraging. There are about 3,600 qualified voters in the county this year.

Unfortunate Situation.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

KENTS STORE, Va., Oct. 6.—The announcement that J. C. Page, a young attorney, of Goodland, is endorsed by the Democrats of that county as the nominee for the House of Delegates from Plumville and Goodland, jeopardizes the success of the Democrats sending a representative to that body in the November election.

Pembroke Pettit, a former member of the House from the two counties, having been declared the nominee in the republican primary, but in which Goodland did not join, holding that it was Good-land's time to have the nomination.
L. O. Haden, an attorney at Palmyra, has been named by the Republicans and is working hard for his side. It is to be hoped that the complication which has arisen between the Democrats of the two counties may be adjusted in order to prevent the election of a Republican to the House, which now seems probable under the existing circumstances.

Wedded in Richmond.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

OAK TREE, Va., October 5.—Miss Carrie Heier and Mr. Henry Braaten, of Norfolk, went to Richmond yesterday morning and were married. The young couple were accompanied by their sister and brother, Miss Julia Heier and Mr.
Adolph Braaten. Mr. and Mrs. Braaten returned this afternoon, and were tendered a reception at the home of the groom. They will make their home near Diascond, Va.

Secret Marriage.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, Va., October 6.—Miss Eva May Summers and James Barnes Ritter have announced their marriage in July last, and have notified their friends that they are at home to them at No. 40 Clay Street, where they will reside. Mr. and Mrs. Ritter went to Elizabeth City, N. C., July 18th, and were married there by Rev. J. Spence. For reasons of their own the young people did not announce their marriage until to-day.

Off For Annapolis.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LEXINGTON, Va., October 6.—The Virginia Military Institute foot-ball team and substitutes, nineteen men in all, left this afternoon for Annapolis, Md., where they will to-morrow afternoon play the Naval Academy.
Captain E. H. Johnson, accompanying the team as the representative of the faculty.

SECRETARY SHAW ON PROTECTION

His Arguments Last Night to a Large Audience in Norfolk.

GET CHEAPER GOODS ABROAD

Exceedingly Small Quantity, as Compared With Those Disposed of Here.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, Va., October 6.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw arrived here today and spoke to a large audience at the Academy of Music to-night. He made a pleasing speech, which was well received even by the large number of Democrats in the audience. There was a notable absence of negroes in the audience, which is one of the indications that the Republicans are trying to obtain a white party in Virginia.

Secretary Shaw devoted himself to the task of persuading the audience that protection is prosperity, and that the Republican party is for both.
He will be entertained here to-morrow in visit to the navy yards, the war vessels, the magazine, the training ships, and in visiting the great industries about the vicinity in a steam yacht, and will leave for Washington at night. Mr. Shaw said in part:

The Democratic party makes great and persistent complaint because the American manufacturers are sold abroad cheaper than at home. No one has been able to determine to what extent this practice prevails. A few years ago a non-partisan committee of Congress undertook to investigate the subject. They sent out many inquiries and gathered much data.
From this data various estimates have been made. Senator Gallinger, in a speech delivered in the United States Senate, announced an estimate that our manufacturers annually sell $1,000,000 worth of merchandise at lower prices abroad than in the home market.

No one dared deny the correctness of this estimate on the floor of the Senate, though on the stump the practice is magnified and given as a reason why the protection principle should be abandoned.
It has been declared again and again by the opposition and some Republicans have joined in the outcry, that the tariff should be removed from all trust-made goods until the trusts are destroyed.
The reason assigned is that these great corporations, having monopolized the domestic industry, sell at home at exorbitant figures and abroad even at a profit.

Small Percentage.

Our factories turn out $13,000,000,000 worth of merchandise per annum. Assuming that the data gathered by the non-partisan commission is correct, and that Senator Gallinger's unrefuted estimate is correct, then, out of every one thousand dollars' worth of goods produced by our factories, only one dollar worth is sold abroad. The result of labor costing fifty-five hundred dollars, thirty cents' worth is sold abroad cheaper than at home. I do not believe the artisans whose labor produced the goods will register a protest or ask that the tariff be removed, which employment shall be destroyed. For the purpose of stopping the evil, if, indeed, it be an evil.

Suppose our people do sell a few goods cheaper abroad than at home. In this they are but following the example of all Europe. There is scarcely an article produced anywhere in Europe that cannot be purchased for export to the United States from ten to twenty per cent. lower than for domestic consumption.
This is conceded on all hands. I have in my possession two from Norfolk, one bearing the inscription "Domestic" and the other "Export." The articles are the same in each, but the export price is from ten to twenty per cent. lower than the domestic price.

Invoices Advanced.

During the fiscal year 1905 over 5,000 invoices were advanced by importers. Importers are required to file their original invoices, showing exactly what they pay for goods, and to avoid penalty for under-valuation, they are permitted to add to the invoice price an amount sufficient to make the goods market value. The aggregate value of the goods thus advanced was over $30,000,000; the aggregate advance voluntarily made exceeded $2,000,000, and the additional duty was approximately $1,000,000.

FAIR AND RACES.

Lynchburg Management Elated
Over the Success.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LYNCHBURG, Va., Oct. 6.—The first exhibit of the Inter-State Fair Association came to an end to-day with colors flying. The crowd on the premises today numbered several thousand. There seems to be no doubt but that management will have a huge sum on hand after settling all expenses of the operation of the first venture. The traction company to-day announced that they hauled 35,329 cash passengers on Thursday, and is believed it is the largest business ever done by a street car company in Virginia outside of Richmond or Norfolk.
Everywhere and everybody has nothing but encomiums of praise for the manner in which the first fair was conducted and the management is happy over the achievement.

THE RESULT OF TO-DAY'S RACES WERE AS FOLLOWS:

For all; trot or pace; purse, $400.—

THREE YEARS.

Negro Sentenced for Attempted Criminal Assault.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., October 6.— Overton Collins, colored, was to-day in Spotsylvania Circuit Court given a verdict of three years in the penitentiary for attempted criminal assault on Mrs.
Florence Ely, the case occupied the court three days. The jury was given case Thursday night but did not reach a verdict until to-day.

TWO DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES FOR THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

E. P. WALLACE,
Nominee for House from Lunenburg.

Mr. E. P. Wallace, of Lunenburg, will be one of the new members of the House of Delegates, and he bids fair to be one of the popular men of the body.

Mr. Wallace is a farmer and a business man, and is widely known throughout his county and Charlotte as well.
He defeated Hon. George T. Bridgeforth for re-nomination in the primary after a hard fight. The main bill is not popular in its entirety in Lunenburg, and that was the main issue in the canvass.
Mr. Bridgeforth took strong ground in favor of the law in its present form, and Mr. Wallace declared in favor of some modifications.

When the votes were counted, Mr.
Wallace had a majority of less than 100 over Mr. Bridgeforth, and he will likely be sent to the House this fall without opposition.

Mr. Wallace is a man of pleasant manner, and makes friends rapidly, and those who know him best predict that he will become a favorite at the Capitol next winter.

Mr. Wallace is a man of affairs, and his business qualifications have been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the people of his community. He will no doubt fall into the class known in the Legislature as business men.

FOUND DEAD WITH BULLET IN HIS BRAIN

Boy Fifteen Years of Age, Who Probably Committed Suicide.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

STANTON, Va., October 6.—The body of Wm. Bowman, fifteen years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bowman, of Augusta county, was found to-day in Chestnut orchard near Trimble's Mill, eight miles west of Stanton, with a bullet hole in his left temple.

Young Bowman went out Sunday morning on a hunting, and not turning up Sunday night his parents became alarmed, and searching parties were sent out to hunt for him. His body was found by Mr. Logan Dunlap, one of the party, about noon to-day. When found he had a thirty-two calibre revolver in his hand and it is not known whether he committed suicide or was accidentally shot. There was no knife, and some are of the opinion that he was trying to extract a bullet from his revolver when it exploded.

Although the circumstances point to suicide, no one is able to give any cause for such a rash act. His body was much decomposed when found, and it had been there since Sunday. There was a poplar young man, and worked for Mr.
L. D. Myerly, of the county. Young Bowman attended Hebron church, from where the funeral was held late this evening, conducted by Rev. Holmes Ralston.

A DAINY BIT.

Handsome Dressed Infant Left by Passenger on Train.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SUFFOLK, Va., October 6.—A pretty little girl baby, supposed to have been brought on the late passenger train on the Seaboard Air Line, shortly after 10 o'clock last night, on the front porch of A. W. Copeland, at No. 118 Hill Street.
The car stop near the home, and a passenger would have opportunity to deposit the babe-laden basket on the porch and catch the car before the station was left.

The dainty little bit of babyhood was found shortly after the train pulled away. Mrs. Copeland heard its cries.
Her son came into the house shortly before the train came. There was no baby on the porch then. The police have no doubt that the infant was brought here by passenger, and are seeking clues in that direction.

The child was dressed in costly garments—a nice little silk cap, a top coat of costly fabric, and plenty of lingerie.
Several married ladies who had seen the child say it is not over three days old, probably less. It has blue eyes, a head covered with very dark hair, and a little nose inclined to be pug-shaped.
The mouth is its prettiest feature.

The child takes nourishment readily.
Mrs. W. S. Tebo, of No. 123 Hill Street, is caring for it. Unless the finders be adopted by some childless couple of Suffolk, it will be forwarded to an orphanage. Mrs. Lee Britt, president of the Suffolk Association, is in charge.

JOHN T. WILKINS,
House from Eastville, Va.

As will be seen from the above picture, Mr. John T. Wilkins, of Northampton, the new member who will represent that county and Accomac in the House, is quite a young man. Indeed Mr. Wilkins will probably be the youngest of all the members. He is a lawyer of fine ability, and a speaker of rare gifts. Mr. Wilkins is a graduate of the University of Virginia, and though he has been at the bar but a short while he has already made his impress upon the people of his county. His popularity was demonstrated by the fact that he won the House nomination in the recent primary after a sharp contest over two strong competitors, both of whom were widely and favorably known.

While Mr. Wilkins may have opposition from the Republicans, it is a "safe bet" that he will come to the House, as his district is strongly Democratic.

Mr. Wilkins will succeed that old veteran in the Legislature, Dr. Charles Smith, who did not stand for re-election.

FIGHTING POSTMASTER HAS ANOTHER SCRAP

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, Va., October 6.—Following the personal difficulty on High Street, Portsmouth, yesterday between Postmaster H. F. Butt and W. D. Jenkins, former money order clerk in the Portsmouth postoffice, who was removed four months ago, there was a lively fight between Postmaster Butt and former Postmaster Samuel L. Burroughs at the ferry wharf in Portsmouth this morning.

Both Postmaster Butt and former Postmaster Burroughs were coming to Norfolk and met on the ferry boat just as the steamer was about to leave the Portsmouth side of the river for Norfolk.
There were only a few words passed between the two gentlemen before the blows began to fall thick and fast.
Mr. Burroughs came out of the scrap with a black eye and a bloody face. Mr.
Butt lost no blood.

The fight was the outgrowth of political trouble, which is alleged to have had its origin from things said about Butt by Burroughs and Jenkins.

HURLED TO DEATH.

Sight and Hearing Defective, J.
A. Davis Drove Before Train.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WYTHEVILLE, Va., October 6.—J. A.
Davis, who lives about four miles east from Wytheville, was killed by an eastbound freight train this evening about 4 o'clock at crossing near Kents Mills.
Davis' sight and hearing were both defective from injuries received at a sawmill several months ago, and it is presumed he did not hear or see the train which struck the hind wheels of his vehicle, throwing him on a cattle guard and crushing his skull.
He leaves a wife and several grown children.

THE CLANSMAN.

The Author Has the Scenes Photographed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LYNCHBURG, Va., October 6.—After having a report from his advance agents from the Richmond theatre, the author of "The Clansman," which was dramatized "The Clansman," which was presented here to-night to the largest audience ever seen at a theatre in Lynchburg, had twenty scenes in the play photographed here this afternoon by a New York theatrical artist.

Dr. Dixon declared the local play house to be the best equipped in the entire South.

CITIZENS ARRESTED.

Policemen Watch a City Lot to Prevent Fighting.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 6.—There is a fence and riparian rights contest over valuable city property, which involves several citizens. This afternoon A. B.
Martin, capitalist, was arrested for destroying property. C. H. Bull, Councilman, for threats to kill; E. Townsend, real estate dealer, for trespass, and E.
W. Worrall, carpenter, for destroying property. Townsend put up a fence to claim a lot which the others claim because they declare they have occupied the lot.

They were all arrested and bailed to appear in the Police Court to-morrow, and the police are guarding the lot tonight and preventing the contestants from fighting.

COLONEL THOMAS CARTER IS PARTIALLY PARALYZED

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Colonel Thomas Carter, former proctor of the University of Virginia, was partially paralyzed a few days ago at the country home of his daughter, Mrs. H. R.
Dulaney, in Fauquier county.

Died of Injuries.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RALEIGH, N. C., October 6.—Sidney Young, the brakeman, who had his leg leg and hip crushed yesterday under a Seaboard Air Line locomotive near Raleigh, died this afternoon at Rex Hospital here. He fell in front of the engine as he was running ahead to open a switch for the train. Engineer J. B. Clayton, who was caught between two box cars at Cameron and smashed, is reported as going very well.
